Grundy Worldwide Presents New Coverage Options in its Collector Vehicle Program—Towing, Medical, and Other Choices Now Available for Policy Holders

Horsham, PA – July 11, 2006– Grundy Worldwide, the first and foremost in collector vehicle insurance, announced today that the Collector Vehicle Program now offers more coverage options in an effort to meet the insurance needs of new customers.

Grundy's Collector Vehicle Program has been underwritten by the member insurers of the American International Group (AIG), the Chubb Group of Insurance Companies, and United States Liabilities Insurance. Now, an enhanced product is offered to potential policy holders through newly-added underwriter, A+ rated Philadelphia Insurance Company.

In addition to the already-standing policy benefits of Agreed Value, No Model Year Limitation and Unlimited Mileage, Grundy Worldwide now offers coverage options for Spare Parts, Trip Interruption and Towing and Labor Costs for new policy holders. The opportunity to include Inflation Guard and Auto Show Medical Reimbursement is also available to customers.

With nearly 60 years of experience of insuring collector cars, the company understands policy holders' love for vehicles and desire for the best coverage possible, with the most options available.

"Grundy Worldwide now offers more options in coverage than any other provider of collector vehicle insurance," said James A. Grundy, Jr., company president. "I'm confident that with the additional options provided by the Philadelphia Insurance Company, our agency is now capable of providing the best service and product in the collector vehicle insurance business."

Grundy is also pleased to announce that West Coast customers can now expect to receive their policies more quickly, with turn-around times as rapid as three days.
